

Free NRFC Technical Assistance Webinar August 23, 2012
Fatherhood Buzz - Back to School Initiative: Effective Strategies for Increasing Father Involvement in Schools

Thursday August 23, 2012
12:30 PM – 2:00 PM (EASTERN)

The Office of Family Assistance, through the National Responsible Fatherhood Clearinghouse (NRFC), is providing this technical assistance webinar for all responsible fatherhood practitioners, including current OFA grantees, and other interested stakeholders.

The webinar will provide ideas and resources to help increase father involvement in schools and their children's education. Information will be provided on various initiatives that have helped engage fathers and father figures, inspire children, reduce bullying, and generally improve the educational environment in order that men may become more involved in the lives of their children.

Log In Information

Joining the webinar is a two-step process. There is a dial-in number to hear the audio and a website URL to be able to view the presentation slides.

Step1: Audio Information

In order to hear the audio for the conference, you must dial the number listed below and reference the listed passcode for the operator or automated response system

Audio Dial-in Number: 888-455-2267

Passcode: 1364553

Dial *0 for Technical Assistance

Step 2: Web Viewing Information

Step One: Test Browser

Please test your browser for compatibility at the following URL prior to the event date:

<http://bit.ly/N9X6mM>

Please note that this is only the browser check link and not the link to the actual event. Once you have successfully joined the test meeting, you may exit.

Step Two: Join the Webinar!

Follow THIS link to join the meeting no more than 10 minutes prior to start time. You may click on the link directly, or cut and paste the link into your browser: <http://bit.ly/RR1aeB>